

ABSTRACT

[0024] A system for deploying detonating cord from a reel that allows the user to tell at a glance whether he has left on the reel sufficient cord to complete the task. Before wrapping the cord on the drum, the detonating cord is marked incrementally. Once wrapped the user will have a visual indication of the number of feet, yards, or meters left on the reel.